

Buy the Sunglasses Ben Affleck Wears in Daredevil

If you like the style of Olympian sunglasses, then the Ray-Ban Men's Olympian Oval Sunglasses, Gunmetal, 62 mm (Apparel) model surely won't disappoint. In the epic movie 'Daredevil', Ben Affleck donned the red Olympian Oval Sunglasses while taking on predators, fighting crime, and saving the world. Other A-list celebrities have also been spotted wearing these popular Ray-ban shades because they're extremely stylish-looking. Let's take a closer look, shall we?

Prescription Ready Lenses

Some of us aren't blessed with perfect vision and for times when we just want to laze by the pool without having to resort to wearing contact lenses in order to look great, these sunglasses will come in handy. These Ray-ban shades are prescription-ready, so you'll be able to protect your eyes from the sun while looking hot at the same time.

Choose a Color to Match Your Clothes

This particularly model comes in many different colors such as red, blue, and black. You'll also get to choose the color of your lenses at the time of purchase.

Better Quality

Many previous buyers of Ray-Ban's earlier models of sunglasses have reported that the quality and materials used weren't up to par. Well, that's a thing of the past now. Ray-ban has listened to your feedback and has now updated their range using high quality materials. You'll not have to worry about your shades bending out of shape or becoming scratched beyond recognition.

Protective Case Included

With any new pair of these shades you buy, you will be offered a complimentary case. The good news is you'll also get to choose what color you'd like your case to be in. Just mix and match, and you'll be good to go.

The Olympian Oval Sunglasses are really popular right now so and grab a pair before they're all sold out!
